CAPT. H. E. COMSTOCK

GUEST OF GRISWOLD COMMAND and Thanksgiving Eve Whist Turkey Drawing.

Major R. S. Griswold command, No. 6. U. S. W. V. observed its annual custom on Wednesday evening of making the night before Thanksgiving an informal social time for the members and a special gathering of the command was held in their rooms at the armory. One special guest for the evening was Capt. Harry E. Comstock, of the regular army, who went out with Company C, Third Connecticut, as first licutenant at the time of the Spanish American war. Since then, Captain Comstock has entered the regular army and seen service in the Philippines as well as at other posts, and he is now stationed at Fort Sheridian, near Chicago, and is home on a furlough of several months. Captain Comstock talked over old times with the boys in an informal way and also participated in the whist which was part of the evening's entertainment. During the evening's entertainment. During the evening's entertainment of the evening sandwiches, designants and coffee were served. One special feature was the award of the prize live turkey, which is an annual event with the command. The turkey, a fine young Tom, was on band in a coop, seemingly not disturbed because the death watch had been set over him and he chatted pleasantly with his failers, on the eve of his approaching exscution. When the lots had been drawn it was found that Adit M. R. Waters was assigned as Major R. S. Griswold command, No. approaching execution. When the lots had been drawn it was found that Adjt M. R. Waters was assigned as the owner and to carry out the sentence of death on the bird. Adjutant Waters granted the victim a temporary reprieve over night and left him in charge of Armorer Barbour as jailer for the few hours more until sentence shall be carried out.

What long nerve-racking days of constant torture—what sleepless nights of terrible agony—itch—itch—itch, constant toth, until it seemed that I must tear off my very skin—then—instant relief—my skin cooled, soothed and healed!

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Collins and amily are the guests of relatives in Suit For $10,000 Against Connecticut Company Being Heard aunton. by Superior Court-Defense Reached When Case Went Over Until Next Week

> Wednesday morning at the opening of the superior court, the first matter to be taken up was the suft of Well-lington Hi. Allen of Bridgeport vs. the New Haven road. The Connecticut company is the defendant though the suit was first brought as stated above. It is a claim for damages of $19,000 for injuries which the plaintiff received on the Montville electric line of the company on May 30. He is a brother of Eunice H. Allen, who was plaintiff in the suit against the city of New London in the previous case. Mr. Allen testified he was returning to New London from this city, having been here to attend the Academy-Bulkeley ball game. As there were no seats, he stood on the running board with others. At Quaker Hill, about 200 feet south of the Ezra J. Hempstead place, the plaintiff testified that he was struck in the head by a tree and knocked from the running board. He received a fractured skull and was laid up for ten weeks, during which time he spent $200 for medicine and care and was deprived of his pay of $4 a day which he earned when werking as a masen. Dr. J. M. Ganer of New London tes-tried to attending the injured man and gave a description of the injuries received by him. There was testimony by Mrs. Prudence A. Larkham, Frank W. Becker and Reuben B. Ladd. W. J. Lloyd of New London was on the running pard with Mr. Allen, he testified. About two minutes before on the running board.

WANT MOTION ERASED. Action in Contempt Proceedings

Attorney General John H. Light has filed in the superior court, says a Hartferd despatch, a motion to have the pending contempt proceedings brought Liamst State Treasurer Costello Lipput and State Comptroller Thomas W. Eradstreet erased from the docket of the court on the ground that all the porties bringing the action reside outside of Hartford county and that the court therefore has no jurisdiction.

The proceedings were brought following the fallure of an effort to restrain the state officers from paying $300 to each of eleven legislative reporters. The senate voted the sums and Clarence L. Deming and others of New Haven secured an injurition restraining the state officers from making the payment. Another resolution was passed by the state senate and the old one was rescinded. Upon the passage of this the money was paid Contempt proceedings were then brought by the petitioners who had secured the injunction. The new move by the attorney dis-cussed by lawyers is was the general opinion that the move was made too

Gangs Made Their Final Haul on

Weather conditions Wednesday even ing made the night before Thanksgiv ing an ideal one for the Norwich boy

ing made the night before Thanksgiving an ideal one for the Norwich boys who were out in scouting parties to pick up the last barrels that could be gathered for their strings for the bonnires on Thanksgiving night, and a number of squads were noticed about some of the downtown streets during the evening on the quest for more fuel for their fires.

Several of the gangs were provided with contrivances on wheels for carrying a load of barrels to their storage places, where they would remain secreted and probably under guard over night. For one gang an old dilapidates are express wagon served and was drawn by from six to a dozen boys. Another gang had a two-wheeled arrangement with an elongated framework fixed up on it on which the barrels could be arranged in a long row, and still other gangs who had not been favored by good fortune or the ingenuity of their leaders did active work in the old established form of carrying the barrels on sticks between two boys, while a numerous escont trafled along to insure that no stronger band "swiped" the barrel en route to its storage place.

From the activity of the boys in all parts of the city it is evident that the sood old Norwich custom will be continued tonight by the present generation with an enthusiasm that will compare well with former years and that the shades of evening will see many a hilltop and open lot in Norwich with its blazing beacons.

men are not made by what their fathers leave them, but by using aright their own brain and muscle. It is not haby play that makes athletes, the diet must be severe, and the training must test and harden bodily organs. Men, we are up against things every day that call forth the iron in our nature, and I cannot heip feeling that somehow even the vacant chair, the bruised hand, the aching heart and the burning tear are linked to the eternal geodness. Two things I know: the Almighty Father who is infinitely good, is here, and so are the hard things of life only by his permission. Why not join the two and rejoice that God never makes a mistake! I cannot avoid the feeling that the mighty hand that once smootned out the ancient buildean sea can sweep the thorns from my pathway, and I will trust him to the finish.

Now, if this position is reasonable, may we not feel that the hard things of life even grip us more firmly to eternal realities? If so, is there not occasion for thanksgiving? If we write in one column the things that

COUNSEL WANTS NEW TRIAL FOR SPENCER - Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Chapman of New York are holiday guests of Mr. Motion to That Effect Filed with Five and Mrs. Charles B. Chapman of Sa-Reasons Being Given.

Bertram 6. Spencer's lawyers have filed a motion in the superior court at Springheid, asking for a new trial of the murder charge against him. The announcement that they had filed the motion occasioned no surprise, for this was expected and is the usual course taken in such cases. The grounds on which the new trial is asked are the ones commonly given, with the addition that Spencer's lawyers claim that there was no evidence tending to show that the shooting of Miss Blackstone occurred while Spencer cer was commuting or attempting to commit a trime punishable by life imprisonment in the state prison.

This will explain why it was that the commonwealth and the defense paid so much attention to the question of whether the window, through which Spencer entered the Dow home, was or was not unlocked. The law makes it a capital offense for a person who breaks into a house in the night time with the intention of corumitting a robbery to kill another person while attempting to escape. This makes the question of whether Spencer broke into the house in the night time important, and it is claimed that there was not sufficient evidence about this matter to warrant the jury in finding the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree. There was some conflicting testimony at the tiral as to whether the window was locked, and Spencer the
